Right colonic diverticulitis: benign natural course. Panel A. The inflamed diverticulum, arising from the colon (C.), contains a fecolith (arrow) with a calcified rim. Panel B. Three days later the patient is completely symptomfree. The fecolith has evacuated to the lumen, leaving only a residual air-bubble within the diverticulum (arrow).